Cyanos Slimming's Composition Is Effective to Lose Weight

• L-Carnitine

L-Carnitine serves as a catalyst for fat transportation into the cell's mitochondria, optimally transforming fat into energy.

• AFA

According to Kumar K., Lakshmanan A., and Kannaiyan S. in the Indian Journal of Microbiology in 2003, AFA contains useful substance to reduce cholesterol level, as well as to increase metabolism.

• Lotus

A study conducted by Korean nutritionists and metabolism experts, Park Ji Yung and Huan Du at the Department of Food and Nutrition, Inha University, Incheon, Korea, in 2010 stated that lotus leaf extract combined with L-Carnitine can prevent adipogenesis (formation of fat tissue). This effect may cause weight loss because the fat absorption is limited.

• Psyllium Husk

Scientists from Toronto University stated that consuming cereal and oatmeal, containing soluble fibre from bran and Psyllium Husk in the form of gel, can help prevent and stop constipation resulting in a flatter abs.

• Soluble Fiber

A study published in Nutritional Journal in 2014 stated that every 10-gram addition of soluble fibre everyday will result in reduced belly fat for 5 years.

• Prebiotics

Agnieszka Mika, a researcher from the University of Colorado Boulder, US, said that food and beverage containing high-fibre prebiotics can increase the number of good bacteria level and it, consequently, improves your digestion system.

• Lemon

An article published in the Journal of American College of Nutrition in 2005 stated that sufficient vitamin C can help trigger certain chemical reaction, splitting fat into energy. Lemons have high content of vitamin C.
